TO PUSH VIGOROUS CAMPAIGN
Cooperation of Public Desired in Stamping Out Pest Which is Constant Menace.

"The fly is a plague. The fly must go. We don't care where he goes, so long as he leaves Rock Island."

This sentiment, repeatedly expressed at the anti-fly meeting at the Y. M. C. A. last night, seemed to be the general conviction of the company of citizens present, representing a dozen or more societies and clubs of the city. That the fly constitutes a public danger and a menace to health, and that it is possible to exterminate it, were points readily conceded by all present. That the actual task of getting rid of the pest is a work of Herculean dimensions was also cheerfully admitted. But in spite of all obstacles it can and must be done.

The meeting last night was called to order by L. S. McCabe, president of the Broadway Men's club, who presides over the gathering. R. C. Smalley was chosen as temporary chairman, and E. C. Fisher as temporary secretary. The chairman stated that the purpose of the meeting was first, to hear reports of work that has been done against the fly, and second, to decide upon future plans for the campaign.

Mrs. W. A. Sterling, chairman of the pure food department of the Woman's club, was called on for a report of the work done by her department. She responded with an interesting and instructive statement. The pure food department has been campaigning for more than a year. It has brought speakers to the city to present the fly danger. It has caused to be manufactured and distributed through the schools a thousand fly crackers. It has promoted the making and use of fly traps. It has distributed thousands of pieces of printed matter of an educational nature advising people of the necessity of getting rid of flies. This active work has already begun to show results of an encouraging nature.

Mrs. H. E. Cox of the civic department of the Woman's club related the experience of the street vigilance committee of that department, which has been endeavoring to get the streets and alleys cleaned up so as to remove breeding places of the fly.

Want Laws Enforced.
Short talks of an optimistic sort were made by many of those present. It was brought out that the present city ordinance, if rigidly enforced, are sufficient to eliminate practically all the breeding places of the flies, but the extreme difficulty of getting people to obey the requirements was seen in the enforcement of the ordinance. The city officials are urged to enforce the ordinance without fear or favor, and all present signed the appeal, pledging their own support and that of the organizations they represented to the officials in this effort to secure compliance with the laws. Mrs. F. O. Vandewater, I. J. Green and W. S. Parks were named a committee to draw up the appeal to the city at this point.

An invitation was extended by Mrs. Sterling for all who wish to fight the fly to join with the pure food department in a struggle to the death. This invitation was accepted on motion, and it was decided that the pure food department and the civic department of the Woman's club, together with the committee from the Broadway Men's club, and with Mrs. C. H. Carpenter of the social service department, and E. C. Fisher of the city schools, should be charged with the responsibility of outlining complete plans for the city-wide campaign, which will be carried on under the leadership of the pure food department, with the cooperation of all the other interested organizations.

Another Meeting.
This committee will get to work at once, and within a few days will issue the call for another meeting of the campaign, to hear the plan of attack on the fly, and at the very earliest possible moment the fully organized campaign will be instituted. In the meantime it behooves all good citizens to examine their back yards and alleys to see if there be anything in them that may give aid and comfort to the fly. If the policy urged last night is carried out, victory of the ordinance will be procured and need if they do not meet their way speedily.

The city ordinances require that manure be stored in tightly closed boxes, which must be emptied at least once a week. There are violations of this ordinance to be found in almost every alley in the city. The ordinance also requires that garbage cans of not less than five gallon capacity, with tight-fitting lids, be provided for the reception of all garbage, and that these cans be placed in a convenient location for the garbage collector to get at them.

One speaker at last night's meeting reported making a trip through an alley with a garbage can. There were 25 houses on this alley, and out of the 25 there were only 10 places which complied with the ordinance by providing tightly covered metal cans in a convenient location. Such conditions as this make it impossible to stop the fly pest.

Probably the first effect of the campaign will be to induce all citizens to provide the right kind of garbage cans and manure boxes. Judging from the spirit of last night's speeches, if people are not amenable to persuasion in this matter, arrests and prosecutions will follow. If the fly danger is one-half as bad as sometimes state it, then the city is justified in resorting to the most drastic methods to secure the abatement.

"Make Rock Island flyless in 1915" is the goal for which the anti-fly campaigners will work. Their success will depend upon the willingness of all citizens to help to achieve this most desirable end.

REIMERS CELEBRATES HALF CENTURY HERE

(Davenport Democrat)

John J. Reimers of "Oak Knoll," McClellan Heights, landed in Davenport just 50 years ago, to be exact, June 29, 1865. "Since that time I have traveled considerably, both in this country and abroad, and I have never found a spot so dear and attractive to me as Davenport," declared Mr. Reimers to a Democrat representative.

Mr. Reimers was born in Marne, Holstein, Germany, April 13, 1842. Like many of the youngsters of that country, at the age of 15 years, he was apprenticed out for his board. In this capacity he served a hardware merchant for four years. "The fifth year I received $50 for 12 months' services and I tell you that money looked big," declared Mr. Reimers in discussing the incident.

In search of more resourceful opportunities, Mr. Reimers decided, at the age of 22 years, to come to America. "And I still bless the day that I first put foot on the soil of this glorious and free country," declares Mr. Reimers.

He arrived in Davenport June 29, 1865, at the close of the Civil war. Being unable to speak English he encountered difficulty at first in securing employment. But he was persevering and far from being discouraged. He went to work on a farm and devoted all his spare moments in mastering the English language. After four months he returned to Davenport and secured a clerkship in the hardware store of Louis Hansen. After a year and a half at the Hansen store, he accepted a position with the Sickles & Preston company, at that time one of the largest wholesale hardware concerns in the middle west.

After six months with the above firm he removed to Rock Island and entered the hardware business. He remained there two years and then returned to the Sickles & Preston company in Davenport.

On Jan. 1, 1871, Mr. Reimers was united in marriage in Rock Island to Miss Mary A. Denkmann, daughter of the late F. C. A. Denkmann, member of the well known firm of Weyerhaeuser & Denkmann.

On Jan. 5, 1915, Mr. Reimers said: "Whenever I have an attack of kidney trouble due to colds, I use Doan's Kidney Pills and they give quick relief. I am in the best of health today and give Doan's Kidney Pills the credit for my present condition."

A ROCK ISLAND INTERVIEW.

Mr. Beselin Tells His Experience.

The following brief account of an interview with a Rock Island man over five years ago, and its sequel, will be read with keen interest by every citizen:

P. C. Beselin, 1224 Fifth avenue, Rock Island, says: "I have to do heavy lifting at time and my work is hard. No doubt kidney trouble started in that way. The chief ailment was backache and pains in my sides. My kidneys didn't act as they should and the kidney secretions were highly colored. I finally got a box of Doan's Kidney Pills at the Harper House pharmacy and they freed me from the backache and regulated the action of my kidneys." (Statement given April 9, 1909).

Still Uses Doan's.

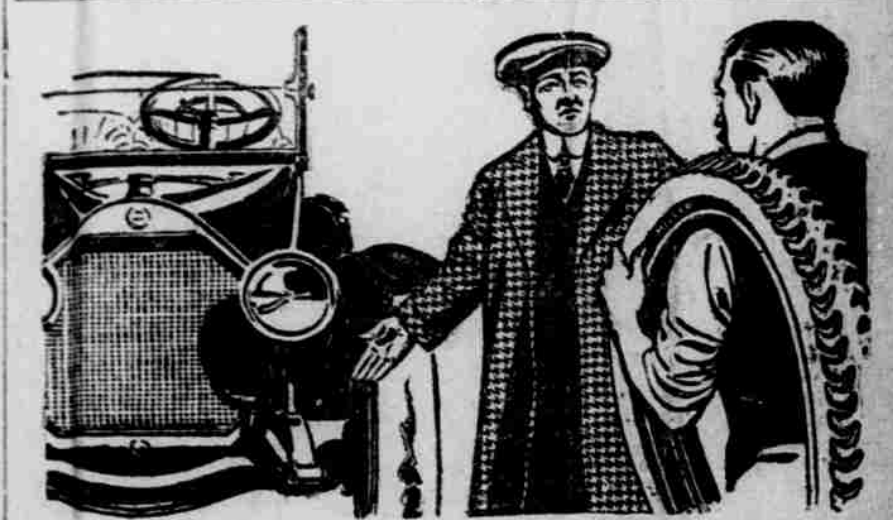

On Jan. 5, 1915, Mr. Beselin said: "Whenever I have an attack of kidney trouble due to colds, I use Doan's Kidney Pills and they give quick relief. I am in the best of health today and give Doan's Kidney Pills the credit for my present condition."

The same year he engaged in the lumber business at Rio in Knox county, Ill. He remained there two years and then returned to Rock Island, where he became identified with the Rock Island Lumber company. He relived six years ago, having rounded out over 40 years of active business pursuit.

Skimp Prices Mean Skimp Mileage

To cut out a layer of fabric—or to decrease the amount of rubber, are ways of reducing the price of a tire. But you don't have to be tire experts, as we are, to know that to skimp a tire to meet a price will result in short mileage and poor service to the buyer.

You can't get out of a tire what price prohibits the manufacturer putting into it. There's nothing skimpy in

There's plenty of rubber and plenty of cotton fabric in Miller tires. And it's good rubber and cotton too, full of road resisting toughness. The natural vegetable wax and oil are retained during the process of vulcanization. That's why you get more miles out of Miller tires—more miles are built into—and kept there—by the Miller Method of tire building.

Ask the Miller Dealer to show you a section of the Miller Tire.
